

Fairhope High School International Baccalaureate (IB) Programme

Corporate Partner Opportunities

The International Baccalaureate Programme at FHS represents the academic gem of our local schools and the result of years of effort by parents and administrators. The prestigious pre-university curriculum follows a world-wide standard established by the “mother” organization in Geneva, Switzerland. Secondary school students accepted into the Programme commit to challenging courses, comprehensive project work and community service. Those who graduate have stretched themselves in almost unimaginable ways. The results are inquiring, knowledgeable, caring young people motivated to succeed in an increasingly globalized and rapidly changing world.

Our Fairhope program embraces qualifying students from feeder districts in Elberta, Central Baldwin, Foley, Summerdale and Gulf Shores, creating a broad academic impact and a diverse group of participants. That commitment to opportunity for academic excellence means Baldwin County retains our strongest students and families with a deep belief in public education regardless of the uncertainty of our state and local funding.

Unfortunately, the IB diploma is an expensive commitment for these students. Like all programmes in Alabama, the county provides only essential funding for faculty. Required student fees, professional development and training as well as additional student enrichment fall to parent and public support.

The Morgan Thompson Foundation, a 501 (c) (3) non-profit corporation, was founded in 2010 after a tragic accident claimed Morgan’s life while she was attending freshman orientation at LSU. In memory of Morgan, who was the 2010 Fairhope IB Valedictorian, her parents established the Foundation with the purpose of providing any and all financial support that the IB Programme needs to function at an extremely high level of quality for its current and future students.

The Morgan Thompson Foundation invites you as a community/business partner to help us enrich and build this important educational offering in our schools. Your dollars directly support our goal of ensuring each and every student with the ability and commitment has the opportunity for a world-renowned education.
